Introduction

Let's be honest. Bringing in an outside voice to facilitate any sort of leadership development and/or executive workshop is a leap of faith. The same goes for various corporate culture improvement situations.

When you bring Dan Pontefract to the table, rest assured that “leap” is the least bit frightening. It might even be welcoming.

With over 25 years of honing his craft in senior leader & executive development, strategic planning, and organizational assessments, Dan brings a wealth of experience to the table. His extensive consulting and culture enhancement assignments have equipped him with the knowledge and skills to guide leaders, teams, and organizations toward their full potential.

Dan's approach is rooted in collaboration, education, and information. His 'Senior Leader Masterclass Series' presents an engaging experience that is specifically tailored to bolster the leadership skills of leaders, particularly those at the Director level and above. The series is designed not just to widen their influence but also to arm them with the strategic foresight needed to steer through today's challenges and confidently face tomorrow's challenges.

With a wide range of options to choose from, you'll embark on a path of growth and discovery, engaging with cutting-edge leadership concepts and practical applications that will elevate your interactions with others and improve your operational outcomes.

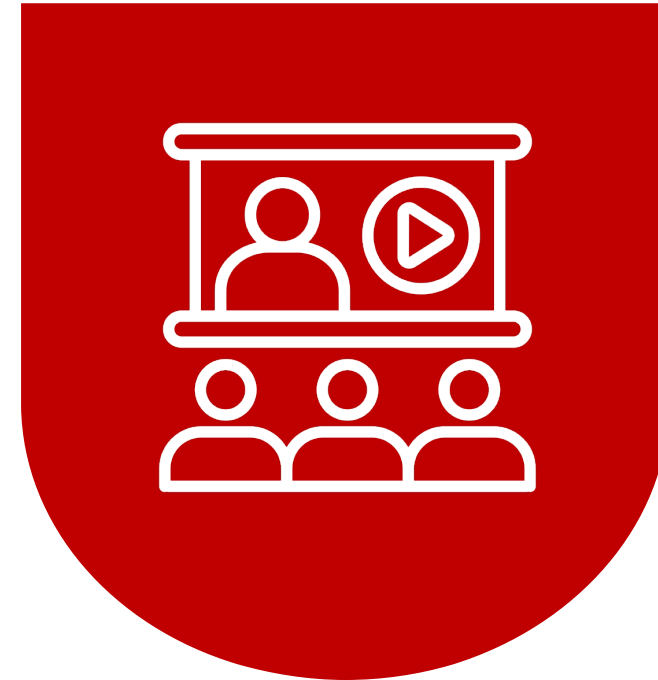

If you and your team need help getting unstuck while gently pushing stakeholders and team members to improve, Dan's approach may be just what you're looking for.

Masterclass Components

Comprehensive Curriculum

Dive deep into several meticulously crafted senior-level leadership modules designed to challenge your assumptions, broaden your perspective, and enhance your leadership repertoire. Pick one, a few, or all the modules for you and your team or organization or mid-level to senior leaders.

Blended Experience

Benefit from a unique mix of virtual sub-team sessions, enriching cohort discussions, and engaging in-person workshops. The Masterclass offers the flexibility of online learning with the irreplaceable value of face-to-face interactions, ensuring a balanced and impactful educational journey for all attendees in the series.

Practical Application

Move beyond theory with case studies, real-world projects, and interactive sessions that encourage practical application of skills. You'll leave the Masterclass not just with knowledge but with actionable insights that can be immediately applied to your work and leadership challenges.

Personal & Professional

The Masterclass Series is not just about enhancing your leadership skills; it's an investment in your personal growth. Gain clarity on your leadership style, improve your communication and decision-making, and emerge as a more confident, compassionate, and effective leader of others and self.

Additional Services

Strategic Planning

Dan can help facilitate your need to strategic plan with his inclusive, collaborative, and engaging approach. Everyone has a voice – and no session ever goes without hearing from all parties. The end-result is a group of people who feel a part of the result; an agreed upon action plan containing deliverables, timelines, and accountabilities for everyone involved.

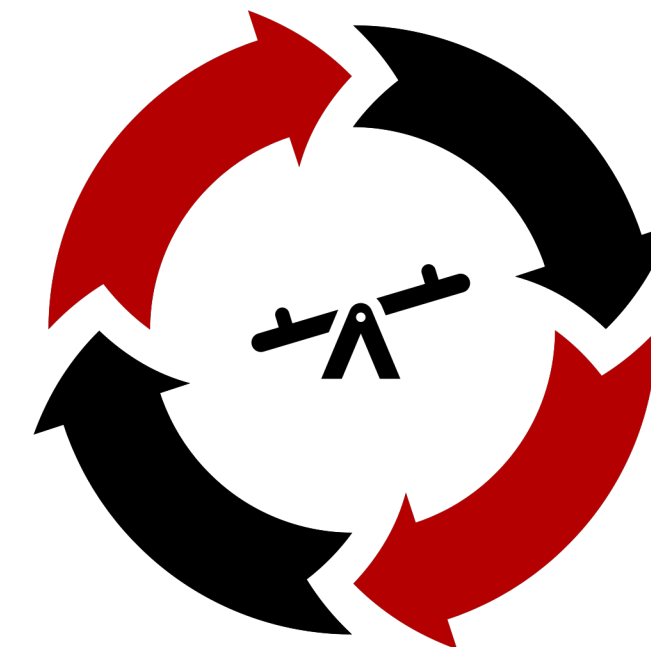

Consulting

As a former 20-year executive at SAP & TELUS + time since 2019 as an independent, Dan has a wide array of experience to help you in myriad ways. Whether it be with org design, leadership or learning models, purpose-vision-mission-values creation, hybrid work planning, or teamwork & collaboration enhancements, Dan can assist your various org needs.

Assessments

Assessments help determine how team members view the workplace. We can focus on factors including leadership, collaboration, or people & culture practices such as recognition, performance, and learning. Your flexible/hybrid work strategy is another area to assess. A full report and next-step recommendations are provided, plus implementation options.

Retainers

Hire Dan on a quarterly or annual basis to tap into a set number of events, hours, and/or access opportunities across his service options in addition to talks, workshops & coaching services.
